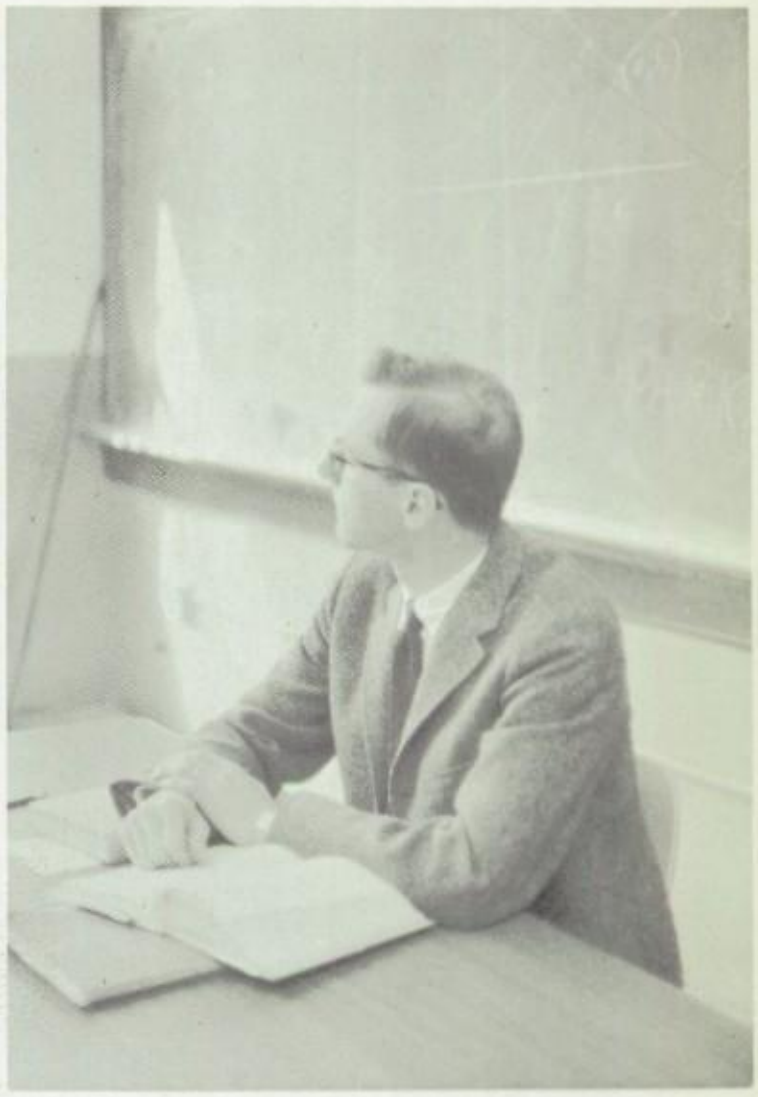
DEDICATION

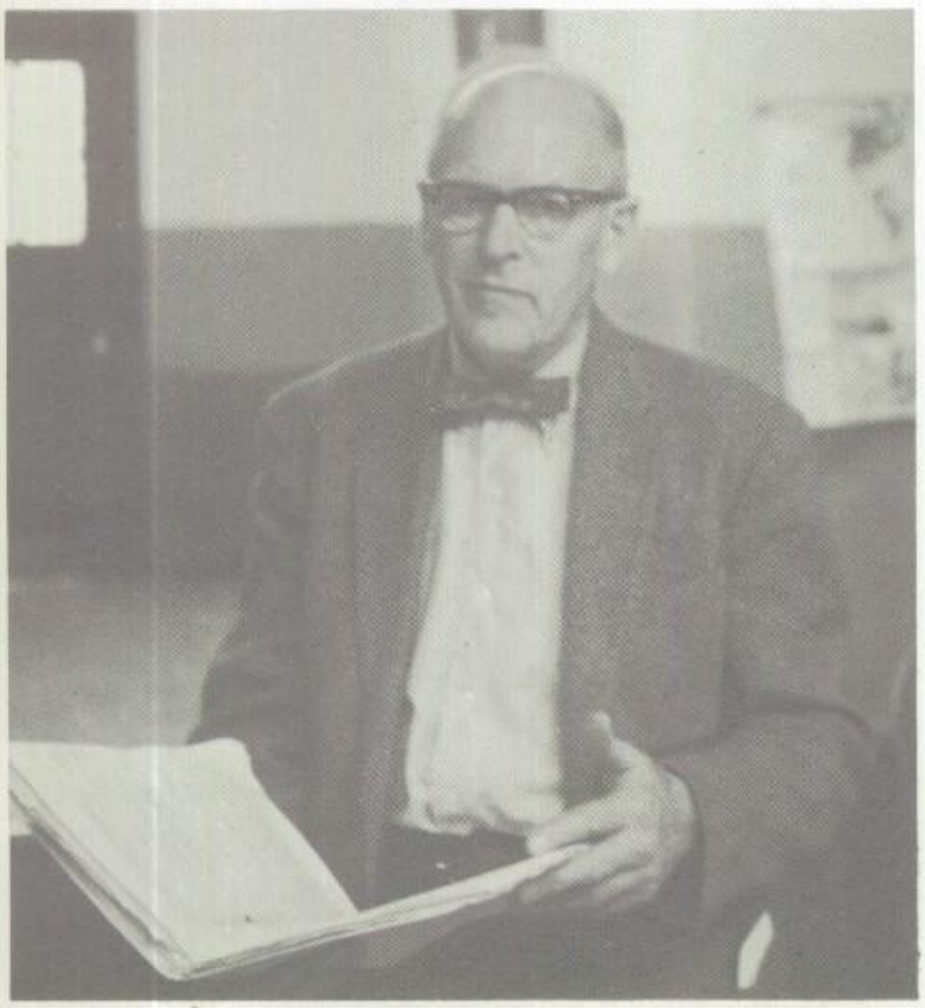
MR. PAUL FOSSETT

Somewhere hidden among a Maine fishing yawl, a Navy destroyer, the Boston Red Rox, and last night's basketball game lurks the little understood world of mathematical trivia, of sin~~e~~, and circular trigonometric functions. The calling of a choice few is to attempt to extricate reason from the mass confusion of a 500 page math book. The man to whom this Pantagraph is dedicated is one of those few.

As a class, the Sixth Form is always in need of guidance. College admissions, senioritis, and graduation all pose problems to the class. As this year's Sixth Form advisor, he has given us this needed guidance and shown us the understanding which has made him invaluable in this most difficult profession.

The Class of 1967 is appreciative and happy to dedicate their yearbook to the Sixth Form advisor, Mr. Paul Fossett. His time and helpful guidance will long be remembered.





In 1929 Victor H. Reid came to Hopkins. Now, in 1967, at the close of his career, there are few things which do not bear the stamp of his genius. Generous of his time, devoted in his service, he has dedicated a life to this school, and the school is a richer place for it.

Thirty years the Chairman of the English Department, thirteen years the Senior Master and Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, longtime mentor to the Pantagroph, thirty-seven years of teaching boys to understand and delight in life and literature; these are Mr. Reid's accomplishments. For the students, however, these important facets of Mr. Reid's life are not the things which will be best remembered. Rather it is his quips in passing to which the only reply can be helpless laughter. Rather it is the year-round beauty of the campus which his plantings have produced. Rather it is his sincere and varied graces at noon, classes infused with love of learning, and continuing delight in people.

In a world that is increasingly impersonal and technocratic, Mr. Reid has been a constant reminder of humanistic values. Hopkins will miss him.

Mr. Charles Billings came to Hopkins in 1945. Since then he has served as kitchen chef for 22 years. During this time he has catered luncheons, dinners, and banquets. Mrs. Freda Gould has assisted Mr. Billings since 1946. In addition to her luncheon duties, she has kindly made her services available for all special school functions. The 1967 Pantagraph wishes to thank Mr. Billings and Mrs. Gould for their service to Hopkins and hopes that they will be happy in their retirement.

Mr. Bakke

This year's soccer team presented a unique situation for Coach Paul. For the first time in recent years, there was a strong competition for many starting spots.

The squad showed promise in its first four scrimmages, defeating Milford Academy twice, Hamden Hall School, and West Haven High School. These encouraging victories were followed by a trip to West Hartford to meet the Watkinson School. The Hilltoppers defeated Watkinson by a 2-0 margin on goals by Ed Paige and Jay Hall.

The team's second victory did not come until after meeting such soccer powers as Kent, Suffield, and Choate.

Probably the team's best effort came during the Choate game, although the squad lost by a 2-1 margin. One of Choate's goals came on a penalty kick. During this game Bill Gilbert showed the hustle which will make him a central figure in next year's campaign.

The team's second victory came on Alumni day. The booters defeated Westminster on a 1-0 decision. The first half of play saw no score as both teams failed to take advantage of several opportunities. The Hilltoppers, however, came back strongly after the half with Gary Mertens scoring the only goal of the game early in the third quarter.

The following Monday saw the team travel to the thriving metropolis of Woodbridge to meet the Amity squad. The first goal of the game was scored by Vinny Chiappinelli on a feed from Ken Paul. The Spartans scored early in the third quarter, but two goals by Captain Paul assured a Hopkins victory.

Through its three victories this year's soccer team showed that soccer is developing at Hopkins. Sixth Formers assisting Captain Ken Paul in this year's campaign were goal tenders Bill Westlund and Mark Ardis, halfbacks Phil Nothnagle, Skip Atkins, and Fred Hehre, fullbacks Peter Cook, Andy Harvard, right wing Harry Brown, and inside Dick Schade.

Assisting Coach Paul this year were Messrs. Bakke and Cookson, both of whom have the gratitude of the entire team.

Special thanks go to Mrs. Paul for the team dinner, especially from effervescent Stew Nickerson.

The outlook to pre-season practice was dim. With only two returning letterman, the Hopkins squad was expected to be weak. This prediction was proven wrong by the success of a 5-1 season. Behind the leadership of Captain Jim Plunkett and defense standout Pete Halsey, the young, small, inexperienced gridiron squad was molded into an effective, cohesive group that was termed a phenomenom in the history of Hopkins athletics.

The line averaged only 166 pounds and the backfield 140 pounds, yet the defense yielded only 15 points and the offense was a constant threat. This unusual performance can be attributed to the superior coaching and the exceptionally high degree of teamwork and morale. It was a team that contained no outstanding stars, but rather a group of individuals that worked together as a single unit. It was a team in the highest sense of the word.

After two suprisingly successful pre-season scrimmages against North Haven High and Branford High, the football squad had gained the confidence and experience required for a difficult season opener against Trinity-Pawling. Large crowds from both schools witnessed an overpowering performance. Hopkins controlled the ball the entire game as the defense, behind end Jim Plunkett and tackle Jack Coyle, held T. P. to three first downs, all in the second half. Though the offense could not complete their long drives, Hopkins won 7-0 as alert safetyman Ed Nolan fell on a fumble in the end zone.

The next victim was the Canterbury School. That team outweighed the small maroon squad by 25 pounds per man. Before a Canterbury homecoming crowd, the defensive team again displayed its awesome strength, behind the play of tackle Matt Walton, guard Dave White, and linebacker Pete Halsey. They held Canterbury to no first downs in the first half, and capping its display with a fourth quarter goal line stand. Though the offense showed superior ball control led by the running of halfback Tim Buckman and the passing of quarterback Ty Chase, the deciding margin was a 32 yard field goal by Sophomore Chase, and the game ended 3-0.

Coming off two upsets against powerful opponents, Hopkins let down momentarily against their next opponent, Gunnery, and was down 8-6 at halftime. In the second half, the maroon fired up, Dennis O'Leary and Ty Chase each completing a touchdown pass to end Jim Plunkett. Chase capped the scoring with a quarterback sneak. Steve Carroll at fullback was the work horse who provided the initial tally, and the game ended with a 24-8 victory for the Hilltoppers.

Avon Old Farms was swamped 36-0 by an increasingly stronger gridiron club. Jim Plunkett caught passes from Ty Chase and Dennis O'Leary that went for scores, and tallied a third time on a plunge from the "Baby Bull" backfield. Lead by the fine blocking of center Dave Newton, Steve Carroll rambled 40 yards for an exciting T.D. jaunt. Linebacker Scott Comstock was outstanding on defense, capping his performance by blocking a punt and then running 20 yards for the score.

Hopkins' fifth victory was a 25-0 romp over Pomfret Academy. Behind the inspiring play of Peter Halsey and the solid performance of guard Mike Schaffer and safetyman Mark Rosner, the defense played its usual superb game after initial difficulty. Halfback Hank Mahakian scored first with a short plunge, but end Paul Nichols was the offsensive standout as he was on the receiving end of two Ty Chase T.D. passes. End Ed Nolan ripped off a 30-yard sweep to complete the scoring.

The bid for an undefeated season was thwarted by arch rival Kingswood Academy as Hopkins dropped the fiercely contended game 7-6. The powerful opposing squad held the awesome advantage of 30 pounds per man over the maroon. This advantage hurt Hopkins physically as they sustained key injuries — Matt Walton, Jack Coyle, Jim Plunkett, and a slew of other minor injuries. Hopkins scored first when Captain Plunkett outleaped three defenders to score on a 31 yard T.D. pass from quarterback Chase. Though the offense could not score again, it held onto the ball effectively behind the amazing workhorse running of Hopkins' smallest man, Hank Mahakian, who netted 100 yards. The defense, despite the physical beating it received, played a remarkable game inspired by the "animal" play of Jack Healy. The Hilltoppers stymied the Wyvern's awesome offense, but was unable to halt it completely and gave up its second touchdown of the year, a 65 yard sweep which, along with the extra point conversion, proved to be the deciding margin.

At the end of the season the Mario Scotti Lineman of the Year Award recognized the unigue teamwork of the '66 football squad. It was given to Jim Plunkett, Paul Nichols, Jack Coyle, Matt Walton, Pete Halsey, Scott Comstock, Jack Healy, Dave White, and Dave Newton. The team recognized the quiet, yet outstanding performance of guard Dave White by giving him the Savitt Sportsman Award.

Led by the strong, spirited play of Captain-elect Steve Carroll, next year's squad has the experienced support of returning linemen Scott Comstock, Jack Coyle, and Mike Schaffer, and sophomore backfield talent Mark Rosner and Ty Chase. Though depleted of much strength, the outlook for 1967 can be optimistic, for the Hopkin team of '66 displayed the results of determination, teamwork, and desire.

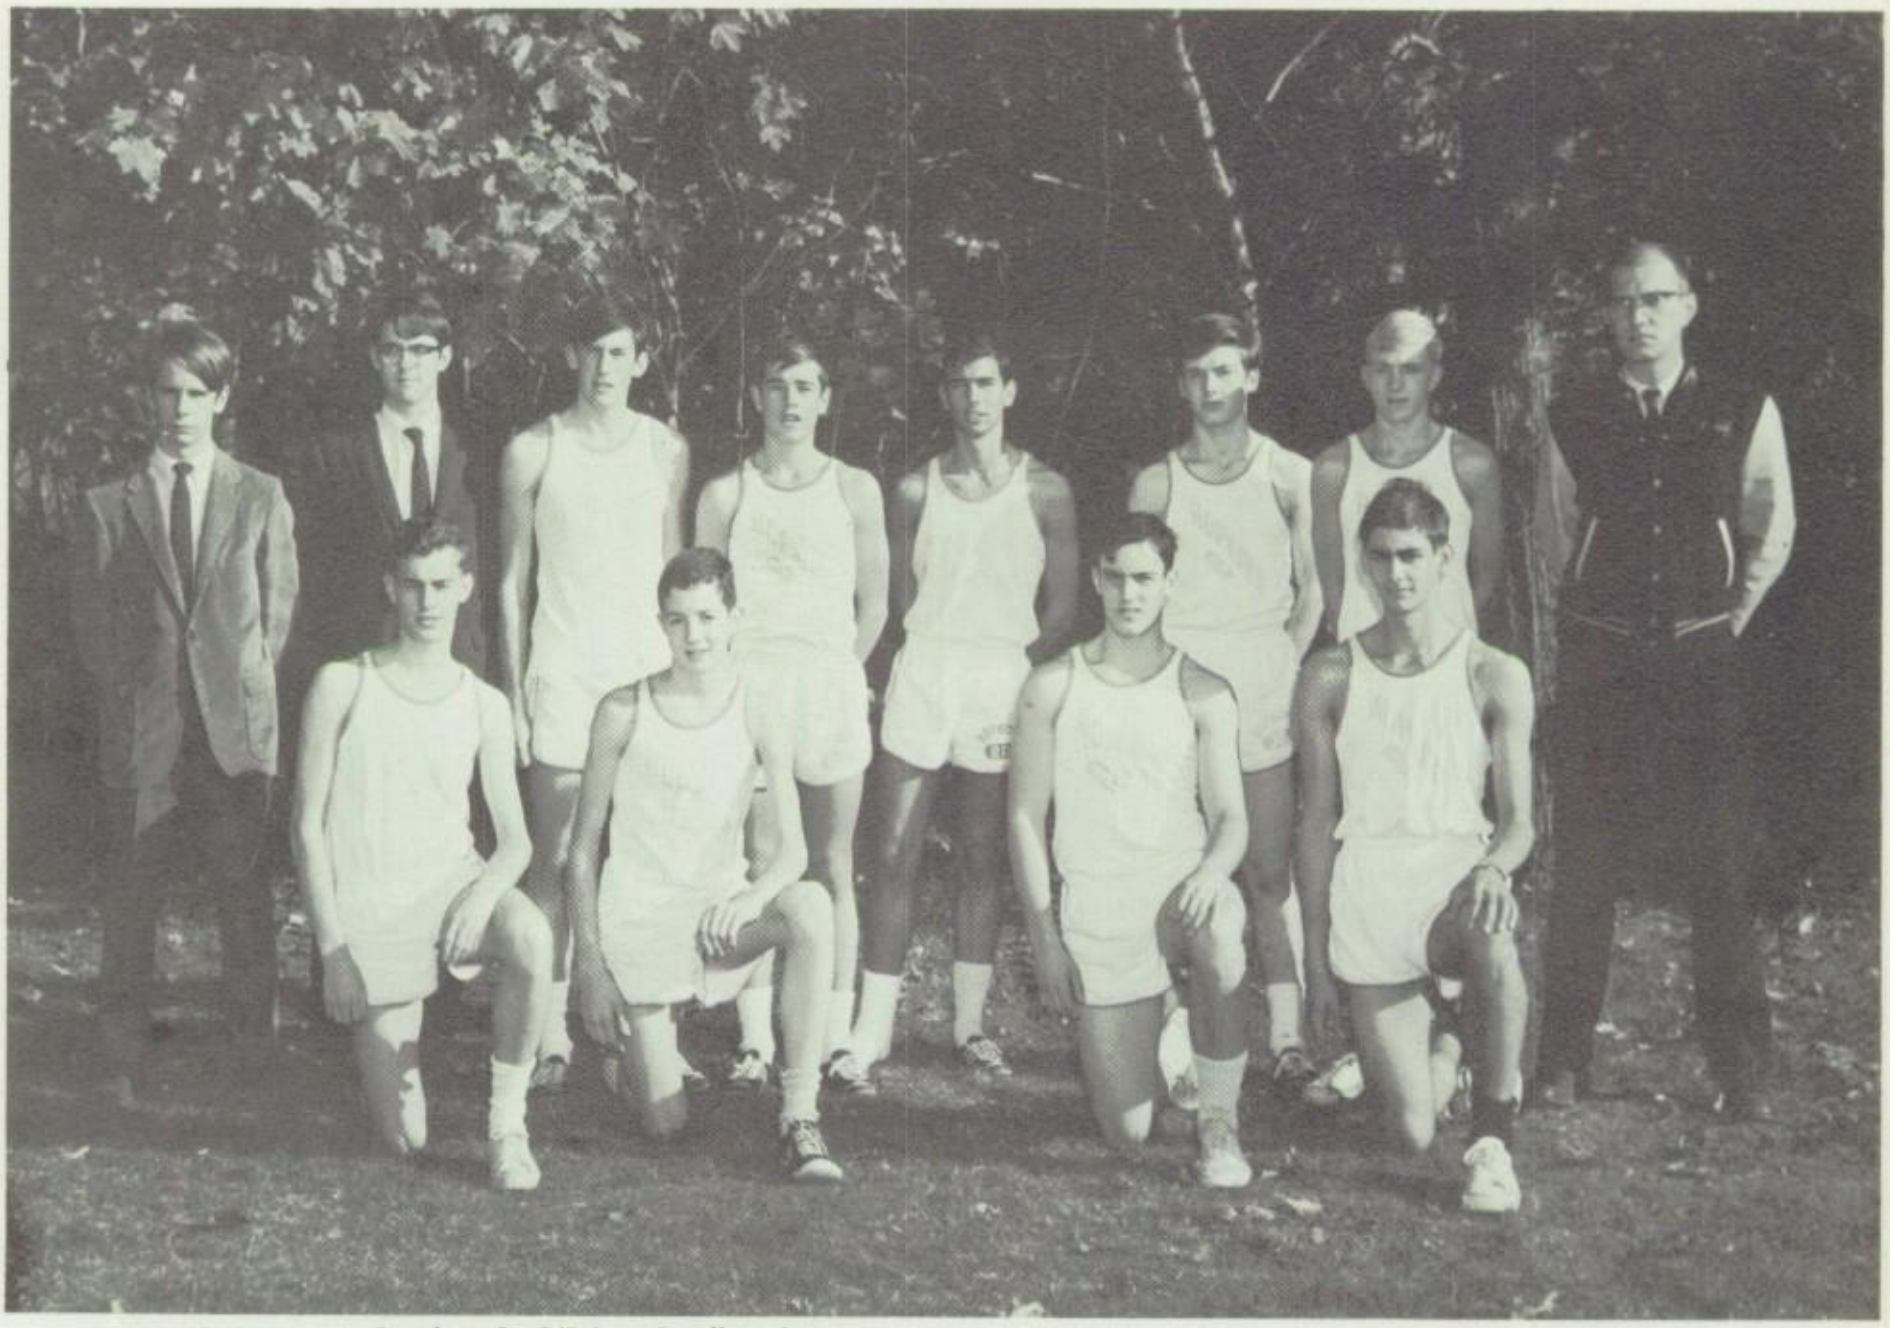
CROSS COUNTRY



First Row: Greeley, S. O'Brien, Bradley, Lee.

Cross country made its debut at Hopkins this year, and like first year sports had its difficulties. However, these were partly offset by personal achievement and individual effort. Lack of depth and real power were made up for by promise of success in future years.

The 2.2 mile Hopkins course was run daily by captain Bob Howling and the team of Bob Lyons, Steve O'Brien, Tom Kirchner, Jim Finch, and Jim Fawcett.

Howling felt the most encouraging moments of the teams season came at the tri-meet with Yale and Southern Connecticut. In that meet, Hopkins' first four mile race, not only did all of the HGS runners finish, but all of them ahead of a few of the college four milers.

Mr. Mulholland, the team's coach, stressed the fact that the problems of a first year team accounted for the cross countrymen's poor showing in the win and loss column. Among these, he cited the strength of the opponents, and lack of experience and depth. He encountered the difficulties of a first year coach in finding the capabilities of all his runners. Half of this year's team returns next year, and this, he predicts, will provide an adequate basis for a successful future.

Perhaps the hardest defeat of the year to swallow was the meet with the Choate J.V.'s. This contest, in which Hopkins was given the edge, was lost on the Choate home course.

Captain Howling expressed the mild discouragement of the team over the losing season but also the encouragement found in some meets, such as that with Notre Dame, in which some HGS contestants bettered their times by over a minute on the home course. "The determination, effort, and improvement shown this year," Bob said, "forbodes a fine future for Hopkins Cross Country."

You Must Be Kidding.

When the swimming team held its first practice this year, they all remembered ex-captain Bill Maschmier's immortal words, "Graduation is gonna hurt." Well, it did. The team was low in reserves and had only 9 returning lettermen ready to fill unoccupied spots.

Perhaps the best adjectives for this year's swimming team were "spirited," "classy," and born in true tradition they followed a legend. Captain Jim Finch summed it up by saying, "We worked, we played, we fought, and we always tried harder, but just the same, we didn't always win." Thus the standing record of 2-8 shows only the final outcome. It does not represent the narrow defeats, the smashing victories, or the class of the team.

7 lettering Sixth Formers composed the "Class" corps. Dave Newton, a veteran from the 440 yard freestyle swam as second man in the 400 yard freestyle relay. Andy Harvard anchored both of the relays and George Keating was third man in the final event. Captain Finch "spurted out" in the 100 yard and 50 yard freestyle events, and Mark Lewis swam occasionally, used mainly as the super-class weapon. Divers Mahakian and Ardis rose to fame with their triple reverse somersaults and their inward half twists. The attitude of the team was serious and the spirit best seen in the remark, "Well, we were ahead of the Yale Frosh at the end of the first relay." Modesty prohibited the speaker to admit that the score, 78-17, was the closest meet score with the Frosh in the area.

Perhaps the two most exciting and disappointing meets were those with Westminster and Suffield. Both were decided in the final relay which we lost. After emerging from the Yale Frosh meet as the moral victors, the team went on to meet the Westminster squad. Defeated by a narrow margin, but undaunted, the team lost the next five meets to Cheshire, Canterbury, Avon Old Farms, Trinity-Pawling, and Amity. However, this year's squad did defeat Hillhouse, a feat not equaled since the 1964 squad met the Academics. A meet that made loose ends of the swimmers, coaches, officials, and manager alike was the Cross vs. Hopkins vs. Hamden meet swum in the Cross pool. The outcome, aside from the harried officials, was a victory over Cross and a narrow defeat by Hamden (49-46). The closing meet of the year took place at the Boys Club Pool where a strong Suffield team was matched with the mermen. The outcome was a good contest which was decided in the relay which Hopkins lost by a narrow margin.

With the season over, the record stood (2-8), but the Sixth Form contingent still insisted, "We had class." Next year's scouting reports reveal a strong team in the special events and a fair freestyle group. The returning lettermen will still ride the bus to the Boys Club pool in their quest for the "total team." Captain-elect Bill Gilbert looked at the coming season this way: "We've got a strong quartet of specialists consisting of Taffel (Breaststroke), O'Brien (Backstroke), Ryker (Individual Medley), and Gilbert (everything). We've also got Jim Lapides, Joe Greene, Sheldon Finch, and Dave Reilly for Junior School representatives. And of course," he added hastily, "we've got that memorable Terry Dolan to give the team some of the class that this year's Sixth Form gave it."

The 1966-67 hockey team held its first meetings in early December with high hopes for its first winning season in recent years. With a total of seven experienced players returning, the outlook was indeed promising. The loss of goalie Matt Walton, however, was a severe blow, forcing Coach Bakke to search for a suitable replacement. This replacement eventually turned out to be Fifth Former Bob Scaramella who, despite very limited hockey experience, did a superb job throughout the season.

The pucksters opened their season against the Hamden J.V.'s. With starter Tyler Chase nursing a foot injury, Fifth Former Ed DeGennaro was summoned to fill his post on the first line, joining Rod Lincoln and Peter Halsey, with Ed Nolan and Dennis O'Leary at defense. Shaking off the first game jinx which has plagued Hopkins skaters throughout the years, the pucksters defeated Hamden 5-3, with DeGennaro and Chris Nolan each tallying twice and Rod Lincoln adding another goal.

Two days later the team met with stiff competition, encountering an experienced Choate Senior Club. Despite their lack of size and strength, the Maroon pucksters out-hustled the Choate Club to bring their record to 2-0. Scaramella turned in a stellar performance, turning back 28 shots.

Lightening Strikes

It's The Follow up That Counts.

The next three games saw the skaters at their season's lowest ebb, losing to Amity, Loomis, and in a bitterly contested game, to Taft.

Rebounding from the three straight losses, the team played its best hockey of the year, defeating a strong Gunnery team 4-1. Once again, the Halsey-Lincoln-DeGennaro line was outstanding, the latter two setting up Captain Halsey for three goals.

Traveling to South Kent, the pucksters lost a heartbreaker in a game played in inclement weather. Despite a brilliant 40 save performance by Scaramella and another three goal "hat trick" by Halsey, the pucksters bowed 7-6.

After defeating a weak Suffield team, Hopkins met with tough competition. Despite standout performances by Scott Comstock, Denny O'Leary, Ed Nolan, and Bob Scaramella, the skaters bowed to Westminster 6-5. Against a strong Choate J.V. team, the pucksters were defeated 8-1, with Ed Nolan scoring the lone Hopkins goal.

Hopkins closed out the season with two wins. In a rematch with the Hamden J.V.'s, Scaramella netted his first shutout of the year as Hamden fell 7-0.

Barraging the Trinity-Pawling goalie with 46 shots, the pucksters turned back T.P. by a score of 5-3 in the season's finale. Rod Lincoln, a consistent scoring threat throughout the season, fired in two goals.

Although the 6-6 record compiled during this season was not the best in Hopkins' history, it showed a marked improvement over the past five years. Although high scorer Pete Halsey (37 points), Dennis O'Leary, Rod Lincoln, and reserve goalie Bob Scialabba will be lost by graduation, Coach Bakke can look forward to another strong team in 1968, as eleven players from this year's team will return, led by Captain-elect Ed Nolan.

Only one man over six feet, three lettermen returning, and a difficult schedule plagued pre-season hopes, yet the Hopkins basketball team of 1966-67 finished its season with an impressive record of 11-2 and third place in the newly formed Ralph Ericson League. The ominous deficits were rapidly overcome behind the fundimentals of Coach Ed Brown — Defense and Drive. Led by the determined defensive play of Ken Paul and Joe Saxe, the awesome power of the defense supported the often erratic offense. Coupled with this defense prowess, the team spirit, sparked by Captain Jim Plunkett and the play of Paul Nichols, gave the squad the strength to dominate the opposition with the surprising inclusion of rebounding behind centers Art Woodard and Bill Westlund.

The hoopsters launched their successful season with two quick pre-vacation wins. The initial victory was an easy, unimpressive 65-50 decision over the Loomis School, highlighted by the 29 point performance of Paul Nichols. The second game was a strong 65-55 victory against a small but good shooting Lee High School squad in front of the year's biggest crowd. Sparked by the spirited performance of Captain Plunkett, the Hilltoppers maintained the margin of victory with double figure scoring by Nichols, Plunkett, and Woodard with 19, 17, and 16 points respectively.

Over the vacation break the hoopsters, hitting difficult opposition and sickness, went into a slump. After dropping two games to Adelphi and Assumption Prep in the Kingswood Invitational Tournament, Hopkins squeaked by their alumni in an 81-73 victory highlighted by the 32 point output of Paul Nichols.

After vacation, the hoopsters had to leave their home floor for four away contests. The first game marked the low point of the season, losing to a hot-shooting Kingswood club 72-48. After this defeat the improvement of the hoopsters was rapid as they began a seven game winning streak by downing Trinity-Pawling 51-41, a big Williston Academy club 60-43, and a weak Avon Old Farms squad 65-25. and Nichols continued to split the scoring honors by combining for 98 points in two games, while Ken Paul's defensive play and Art Woodard's rebounding stabilized the strong Hopkins defense.

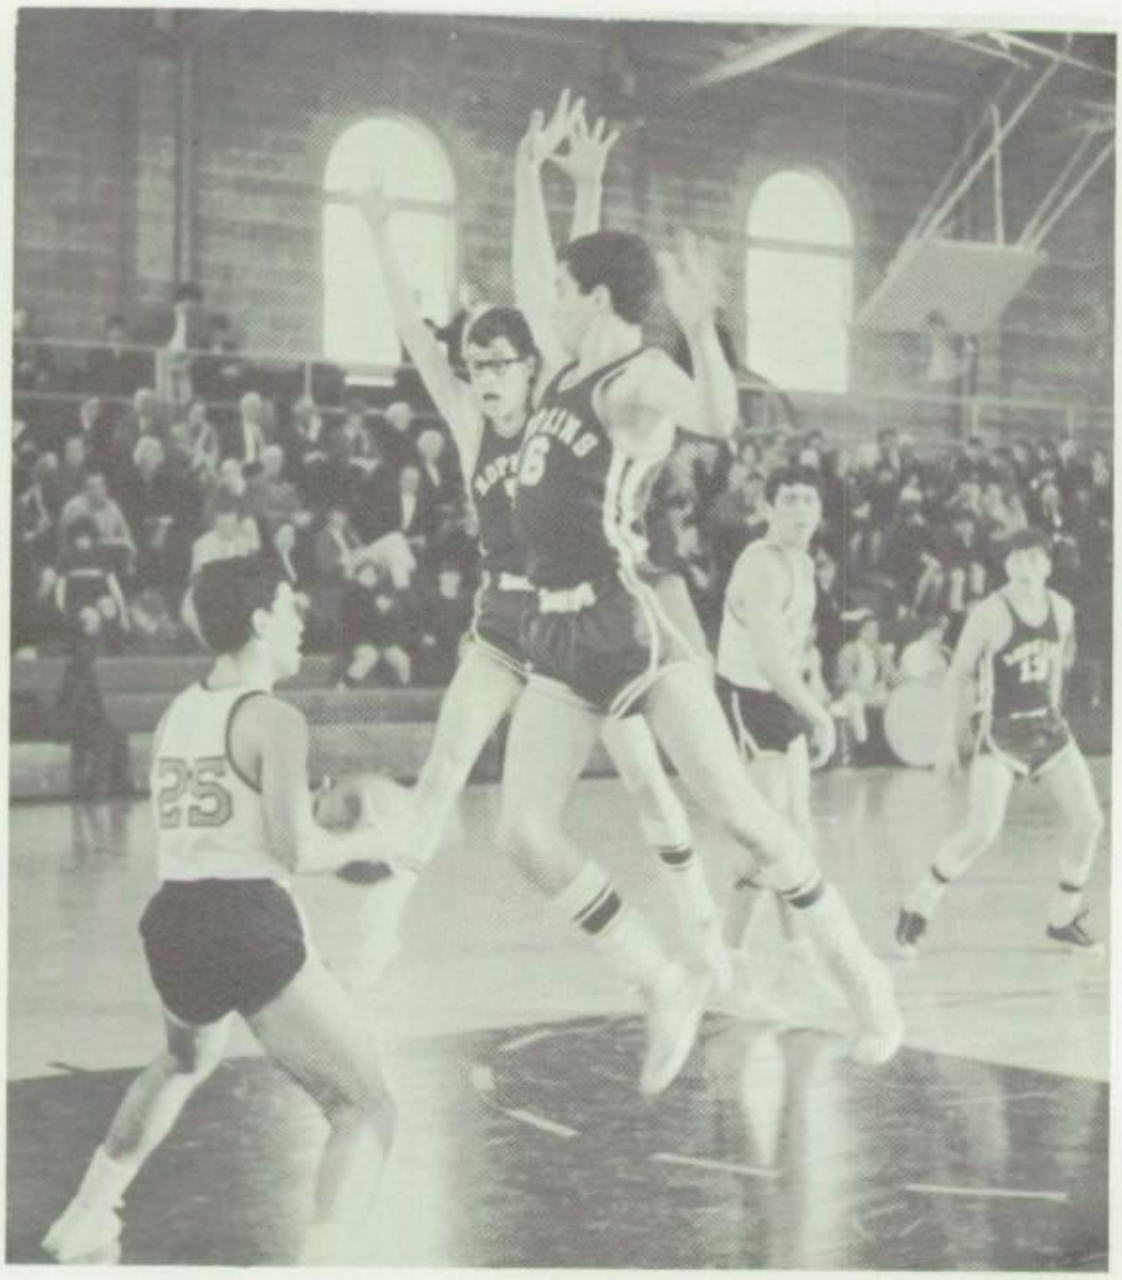
Hopkins met the first test of their increasing strength in their second home game, opposing a large, powerful Choate quintet. The game remained close behind the eighteen rebounds of Woodard and the 21 and 19 point scoring of Plunkett and Nichols respectively. Nichol's two free throws with forty seconds left proved to be the margin of victory in the 68-67 win.

Traveling to the Taft School, the hoopsters, attempting to find a solution to its offensive problems, employed a slow down attack but ran into difficulties. Again tight defensive play provided victory as the Hilltoppers came out on top 46-38.

The next two games marked the highpoint of the season. Playing ungracious hosts to a powerful Westminster team, the squad's combination of a frustrating zone press and a successful fast-break jelled into the season's finest performance. The newly acquired shooting ability of Ken Paul led the team in a 70-48 romp over favored Westminster, Paul leading the scorers with 22 points.



"If we win this, we go to Lincoln Center."

"Patty cake, patty cake . . ."

"If I miss I know I'll cry."

The hoopsters completed the seven game streak with an impressive 73-46 victory over Amity High School. The win was highlighted by a stunning zone press and 20 and 18 point performances by Captain Plunkett and Paul respectively.

On their trip to Suffield Academy, the Hilltoppers were dealt a crushing defeat, spoiling their hopes of tying for the league lead. Though remaining in contention throughout the 68-58 contest, the hoopsters failed to score in the last 2:30 after closing an 11 point deficit to one point. Highlighted by team effort, Joe Saxe led defensive play while Art Woodard ruled the boards.

The finale to the Hilltoppers' successful season was a 64-56 victory over the Canterbury School, with Ken Paul and Paul Nichols adding 20 and 18 points respectively.

Though losing their two highest scorers, Plunkett and Nichols who averaged 16.5 points apiece, next year's squad is strong in potential and experience. Three Fifth Form lettermen, four promising Fourth Formers, and an impressive group of freshmen forbode well for next season. Behind the coaching of Ed Brown and the hustle of Captain-elect Ken Paul, the squad should be effectively combined for a successful season.

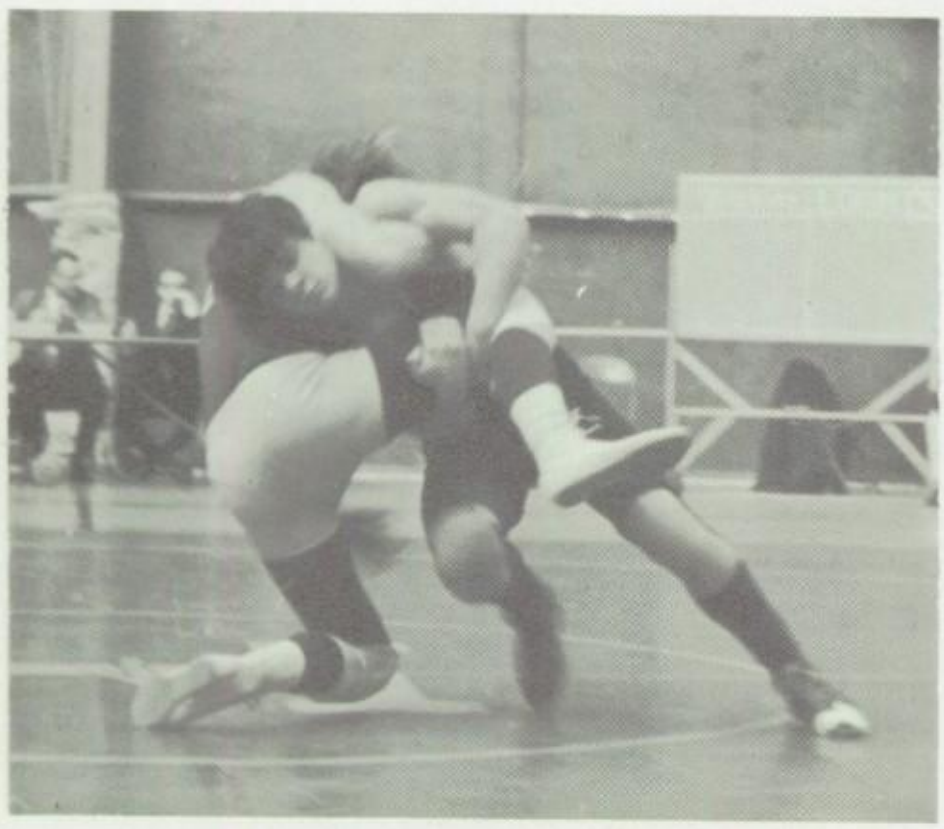
This year's wrestling team, the finest all-around team that Hopkins has ever seen, compiled a respectable 5-2 record.

The Hopkins grapplers suffered their two defeats by margins of one and two points. This year's season is a fine indication of the growing likelihood of Hopkins becoming the finest wrestling school in the state.

This year Hopkins finished higher in the Connecticut Interscholastic Wrestling Association Tournament than ever before.

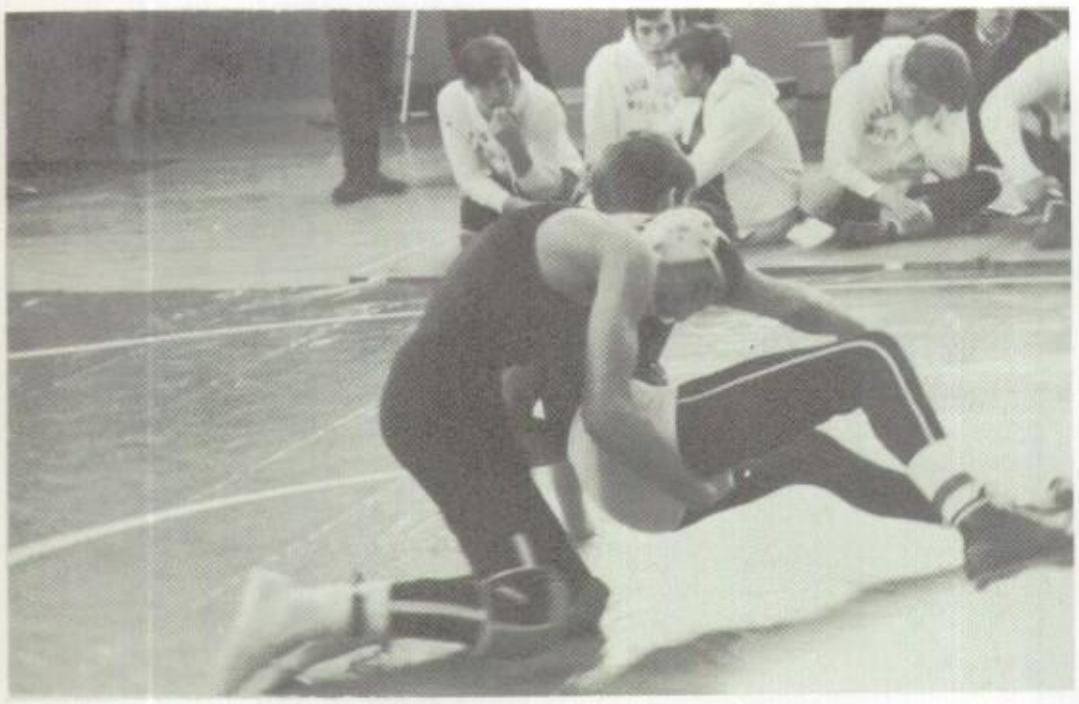
This year's team was highlighted by many talented individuals. A key factor in the success of the team was Tim Buckman who remained undefeated in the 133 pound class and finished third in the State Tournament.



In the 110 pound class thirteen year old Steve Schaffer, a first year varsity wrestler, was undefeated in six dual meets, and became not only Hopkins' third state champion, but also the youngest state champion in the history of Connecticut wrestling.

At 115 pounds, Dave Kreis, a fourth former, also remained undefeated in dual meets (6-0-1).

Wrestling in the 121 pound class, Mike Palmieri, a first year varsity wrestler, compiled a winning (3-2-1) record.



"Please, For my own Sake"

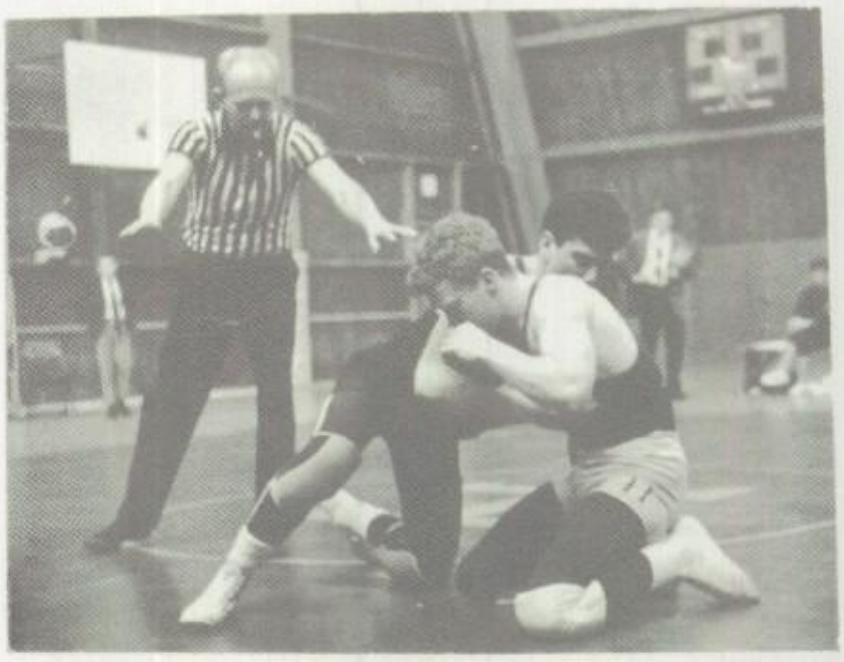
Ted Schaffer started the season at 127 pounds but was unable to finish the season due to a weight problem. Filling in at 127 pounds was Vinny Chiappinelli. Although he wrestled only three matches, winning two of them, he was seeded in the tournament and finished a very impressive second in stiff competition.

Sixth former Fred Hehre, at 145 pounds, finished his three year career with a fine (6-1) record, losing only to the boy who later won the state championships. Fred finished fourth in the states.

In the upper weights, fifth former Mike Schaffer, the third and last of the Schaffers, finished the year with a 5-1 record at 152 pounds. At 160 pounds, Bruce Jacobs, another first year wrestler, was 1-5-1 for the season, losing many close matches. Fifth formers Jack Coyle and Dave MacArthur, at 167 and 177, respectively, did not have winning seasons, although they each won key matches for the grapplers.

Sixth former Jack Healy wrestled in the unlimited class for Hopkins. Although Jack had a lean season, 3 wins and 4 losses, he set a new school record by pinning his man in fourteen seconds in the first period.

Captain-elect Tom Halsey was another outstanding grappler in this year's highly successful campaign. He was undefeated during the regullar season in the 138 lb. class and placed second in the State tournament.



The one to have . . .

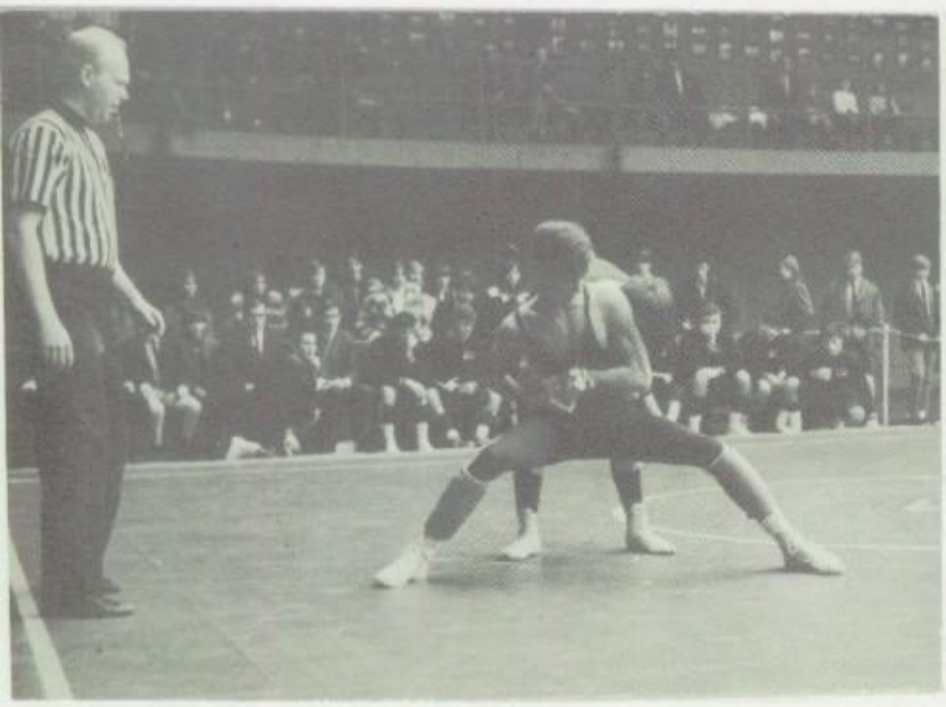
"Argghh!"

"You're Messin Wid The Mafia Kid."



"Brillo"

The wrestlers and their first year coach are to be congratulated on a fine season. Never before in the history of Hopkins' wrestling has a team been so closely knit. This team met the challenge of losing a fine coach like Mr. MacDermott, and took the loss in stride. This was far easier than expected, thanks to Mr. Kirchhoffer. He proved this year that he has both the vitality and the heart to produce many more fine wrestling teams at Hopkins.

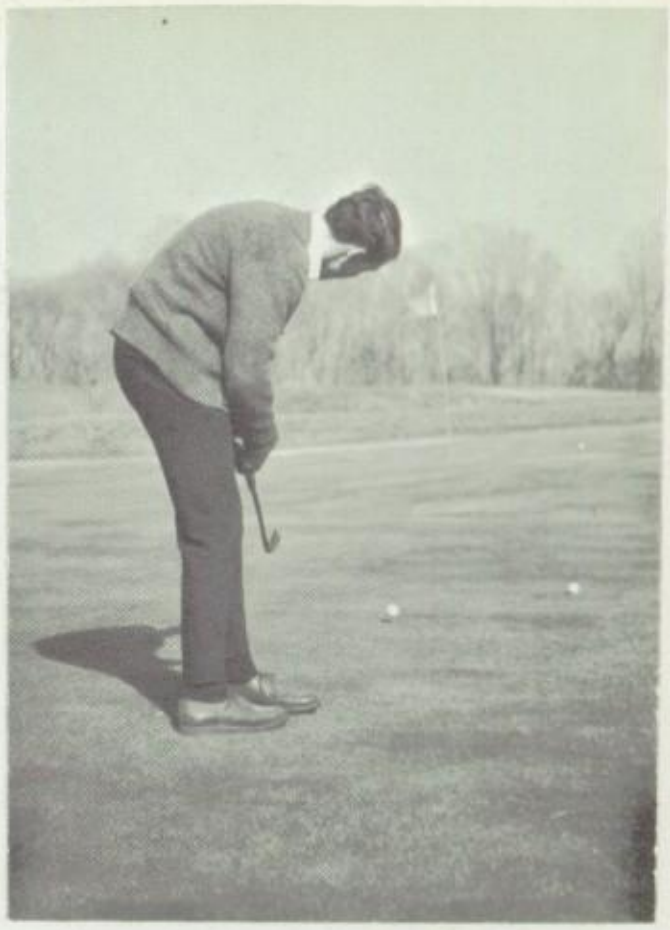
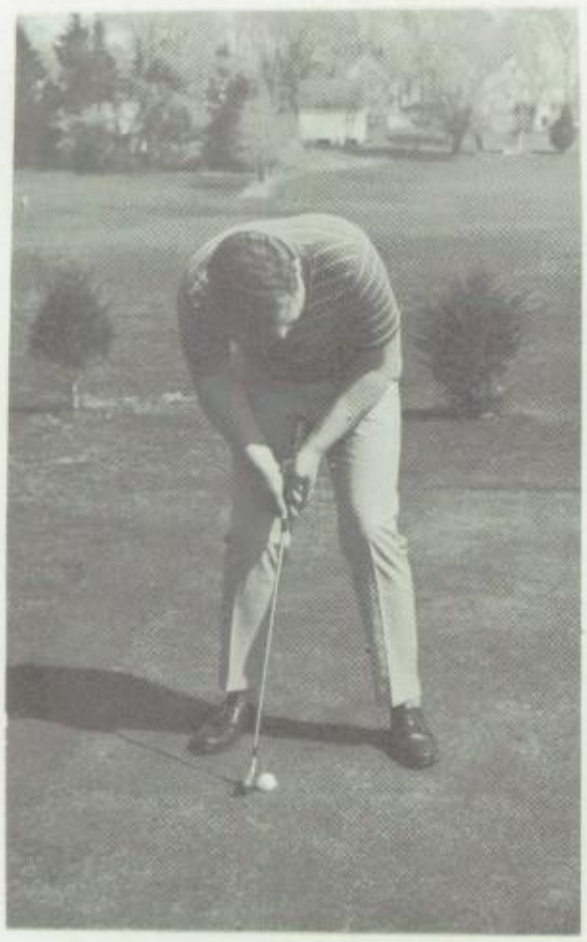
With five returning lettermen, the golf team looked forward to what Coach Mertens previewed as "a highly successful season." Among the members of the 1967 golf team were Jack Healy, a big hitter with little knowledge of where the ball was going, and Tommy Newton, who is said to have the "grooviest" swing on the team. Ed Paige and Mike Scully battled for the seventh position after Gary Mertens, also a returning letterman, received an injury in the early part of the season which took him out of action for the remainder of the season. Captain Paul Nichols explained to Coach Mertens that no Hopkins golf team was deserving of his amazing talents, but conceded to remain and play the number one position. Ty Chase, sophomore quarterback, showed further talents for hiitting a golf ball.



The team traveled to Hartford and suffered its customary "first match blues," losing to Kingswood by a score of 4½ to 2½. Both Suffield and Choate proved to be stronger than anticipated, and the Maroon linksters went down swinging to both teams.

The Hilltoppers' next match was a duel meet with Gunnery, where Paul Nichols, Mel Cottrill, Ty Chase, and Tommy Newton led the team with a pair of 4 to 3 victories.

Following the victory over Gunnery the Hilltoppers greeted both Canterbury and poor weather in a rather one-sided match at the Yale Golf Course. Although the meet was called due to thunderstorms, Hopkins had the upper hand in five out of seven matches. Soon to face Hitchkiss and Taft on their home course, the Hilltoppers are looking forward to a great deal of challenging golf. Captain Paul Nichols sums up the team by stating, "I am more than satisfied with the way in which these boys have performed."



In the Nick of time.

Returning from spring vacation, this year's tennis team was disappointed to find winter still here. Looking forward to a rough schedule with matches against such traditionally strong teams as Hotchkiss, Trinity Pawling, and Taft, the boys under the direction of sophomore coach John Skillman are hoping to better last year's mark of four wins and five losses.

Practice sessions, although rare, were held despite the wind and cold, and a tentative ladder was set up. Filling out the number one spot is violin maestro Roger Weiss, last year's number three man. Following Roger are returning lettermen captain Peter Cook, Fourth Former Dick Casher, and Sixth Former Peter Halsey in the second, third, and fifth positions respectively. Rounding out the starting six are newcomer Bill Gilbert, who having moved up from the J.V.'s is holding down the number four spot and flamboyant Bill Champagne who is managing the much coveted number six position.

With little practice but a lot of spirit, the team easily scored wins over district power Notre Dame and Wooster by the scores of 7½-1½ and 6½-2½ respectively. The greatest excitement of the tennis season thus far was caused by the near upset of tennis power Hotchkiss; the Maroon raqueteers losing by a score of 4-5. Overconfident because of last year's impressive win over Kingswood (9-0), the team had trouble overcoming their Hartford rivals and were barely able to pull out a 5-4 victory.

With a 3-1 record under their belts, Hopkins faced a strong T-P team. Fourth former Dick Casher and the first doubles team of Cook-Weiss were sporting undefeated records up to this game, yet these players, as well as the rest of the team were unable to make a good showing, losing 0-9.

At this writing the Hopkins team is holding down a 3-2 record with the last matches against Amity and Suffield being rained out. Looking forward to the next three matches against Gunnery, Canterbury, and Avon, the team hopes to reverse last year's 4-5 losses to each of these opponents.

With the prospect of four additional courts to be completed in the near future, and the return of many of this year's lettermen, tennis at Hopkins can look foward to winning teams in the future.

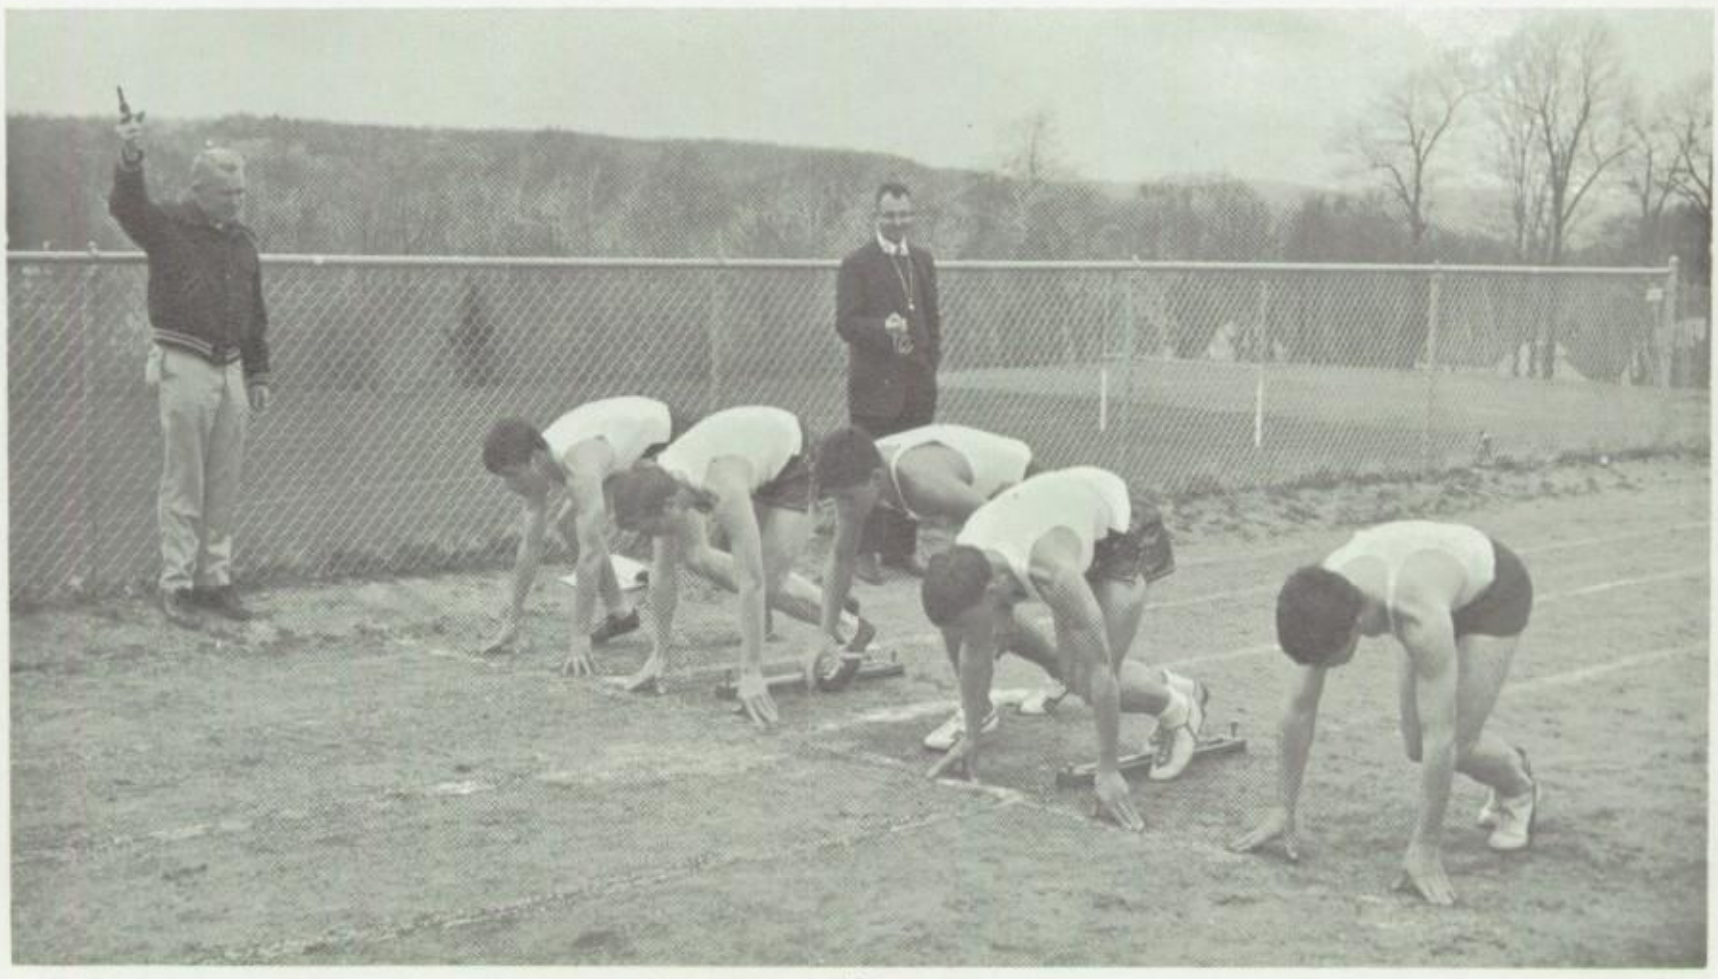
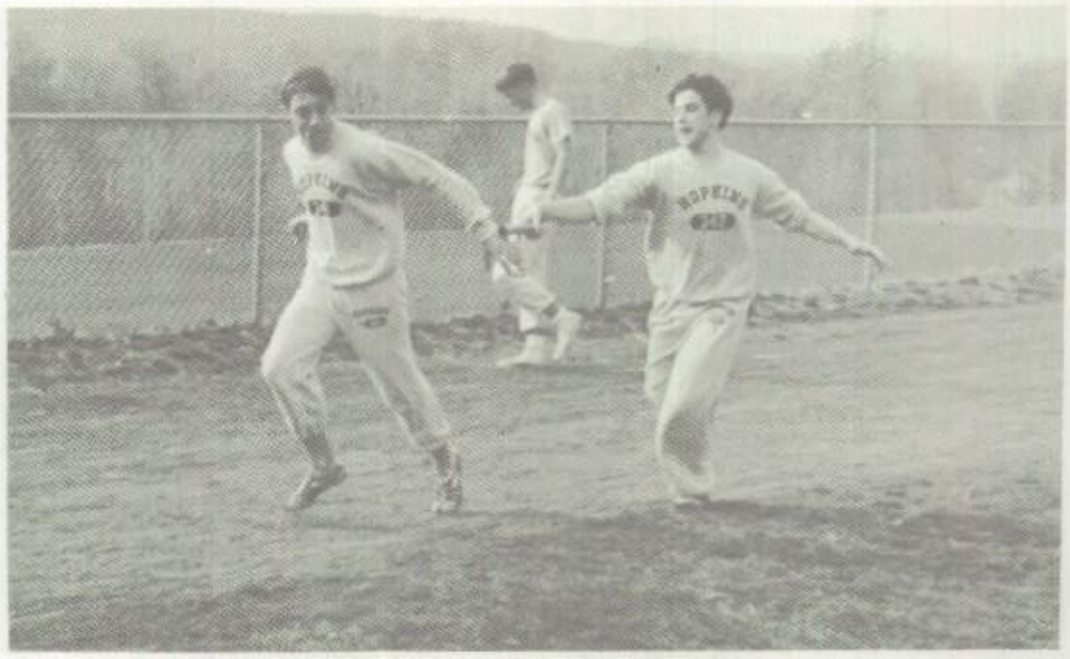
With a core of nine lettermen returning from last year's team and some fine performers developing in the Fourth Form and the Junior School, Coach Varick Harrison's track squad appears ready to enjoy one of the best seasons it has had in the last several years.

Judging from the first three meets, almost every event seems stronger than it was last spring. Fourth Formers Steve O'Brien and Bob Lyons have shown in their first three varsity appearances that they can more than adequately fill the gaps left in the distance running, while in the shorter distances most of last year's starters have returned. Captain Dick Schade still leads the 440 runners and Sixth Formers Jim Craig and John Greeley, along with Fourth Former Mike Palmieri, will run the sprints again this year. Greeley has already turned in some exceptional performances – he ran a 24.0 second 220 as anchor man on the relay team, passing the leading Hamden Hall runner. Against Trinity-Pawling, he was the only standout in an otherwise disappointing meet, winning the 100 and placing second in the 220.

The veteran runners have been joined this year by a pair of very promising Third Formers, short distance men Adam Walsh and Ike Deas. Apart from his sprinting, Deas has also turned out to be a pleasant surprise in the long jumping 18′ 6½″ against Hamden Hall. He was followed by Sixth Former George Keating's career best of 18′ 5½″ in the same meet and thus the apparent deficiency of long jumpers no longer seems to be a problem.



"Oh no, a cramp!"



"No, the other side!"

"Get up, Ike, get up!!"

"Hey, who moved the pit?"

Harry Brown is again shooting for the school record of 10' 10" in the pole vault, a record that he nearly eclipsed last year. Rumor prevails that Mr. Erich will give away ice cream if Harry doesn't break the record this year. Backing up Brown in the pole vault are Phil Nothnagle and Phil Grout who, along with Harry, swept this event in the North Haven meet.

In the high jump Sixth Former Dana Hill and Fifth Former Jay Hall have been joined this year by Third Former Dave Carroll. Carroll also beat regular Dick Pastore in the javelin in his first meet. Pastore joins Tim Buckman in the discus and Mike Schaeffer in the shot put.

Not only does it seem inevitable that this year's track team will improve on the 1-5 record of last year, but it appears that the squad will be well staffed in almost every event for the next several years.

". . . and then I can spin around 10 times on one foot."

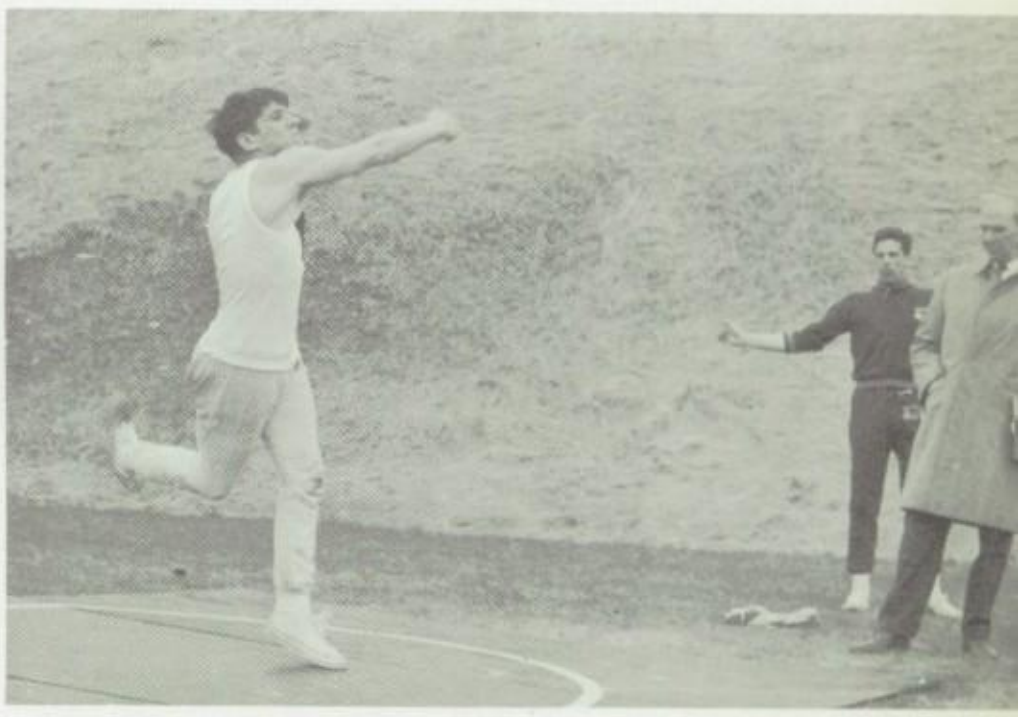
"Ooompah!"

"I try harder."

"What next, coach?"

"Egads, its too high!"

Ed. Note — Against Westminster, Harry Brown broke the Hopkins pole vault record of 10' 10" by vaulting 11' ½".



"Yes, Dick, it looks fine, and there are fewer pigeons down here."

"Now for my overhead swing."

With Captain Dennis O'Leary at first base, how can any team fail to win? Holding this optimistic attitude, the inexperienced baseball squad launched into the season battling the weather and other difficult opposition. Coach DiNicola had a strong nucleus of lettermen with three year veterans Jim Plunket at catcher and and Ken "Scooter" Paul playing alternately shortstop-third base-pitcher and team clown. The nucleus of lettermen was completed by outfielders Hank Mahakian and Dave White, while the Fifth Form provided a strong showing with Mike Vanacore at third base, Bill "Nutsey" Horton at second, and Don Ryker in right field. Fortunately, the Fourth Form yielded four fine ballplayers in Mark Rosner at shortstop, Dave Kreis in the outfield, Chris Nolan in the infield, and D. Nowak at pitcher. This year's team profile would not be complete without acknowldging the superb performances of "Little" Landon Rose, the squad's finest pitcher, and the work of Captain O'Leary.

To date, this year's team boasts a 2-3 record, although they have played three excellent games. The opener was a 7-5 loss to the Yale Freshmen. The Hilltoppers gathered a 5-3 lead by the sixth inning combining the hitting of Dave White and Captain O'Leary and the pitching of Landon Rose. Unfortunately, the Bullpups continued their tradition of come-from-behind victories and spoiled Rose's outstanding performance by tallying two runs in the sixth and a two run home run in the bottom of the seventh.

The weather plagued Hopkins' hopes against Choate, and on a wet field the Hilltoppers made nine errors, losing 9-4. This poor performance failed to demoralize the squad as they came back to win a twelve inning revenge victory over undefeated Kingswood. The game was a seesaw contest of two out rallies and excellent baseball. Rose left the game in the seventh inning with a 3-2 lead, but reliever Ken Paul lost the advantage and the game was tied 4-4 in the ninth frame. The stalemate was broken in the twelfth when Captain O'Leary singled with two outs, moved to third on White's double, and scored with White when Plunkett's routine ground ball was thrown away by the Wyvern shortstop. The 6-4 lead faltered once more in the bottom of the twelfth until Kingswood's clean-up hitter grounded out to O'Leary with two outs and the bases loaded, giving Hopkins a 6-5 victory.

The Kingswood victory was encored with a miserable first inning of a nine inning game with Trinity-Pawling. Pitchers Ken Paul, Landon Rose, and Dave Nowak all saw action in the first frame as T. P. clobbered three homeruns and tallied fourteen times. This defecit was insurmountable despite Mike Vanacore's homer, and the game ended in a 20-7 defeat.

The Hilltoppers' finest game was a 7-3 victory over Kent School. This contest covered the spectrum of excitement: double plays, power hitting, superb pitching by Rose, Ken Paul's hurtling over the Kent catcher to score, and an unusual triple play from White to Plunkett to Vanacore.

"Now, if I only had the ball . . ."

"Heads up, coach!"

". . . better late than never, Plunkett."

"I resent that."

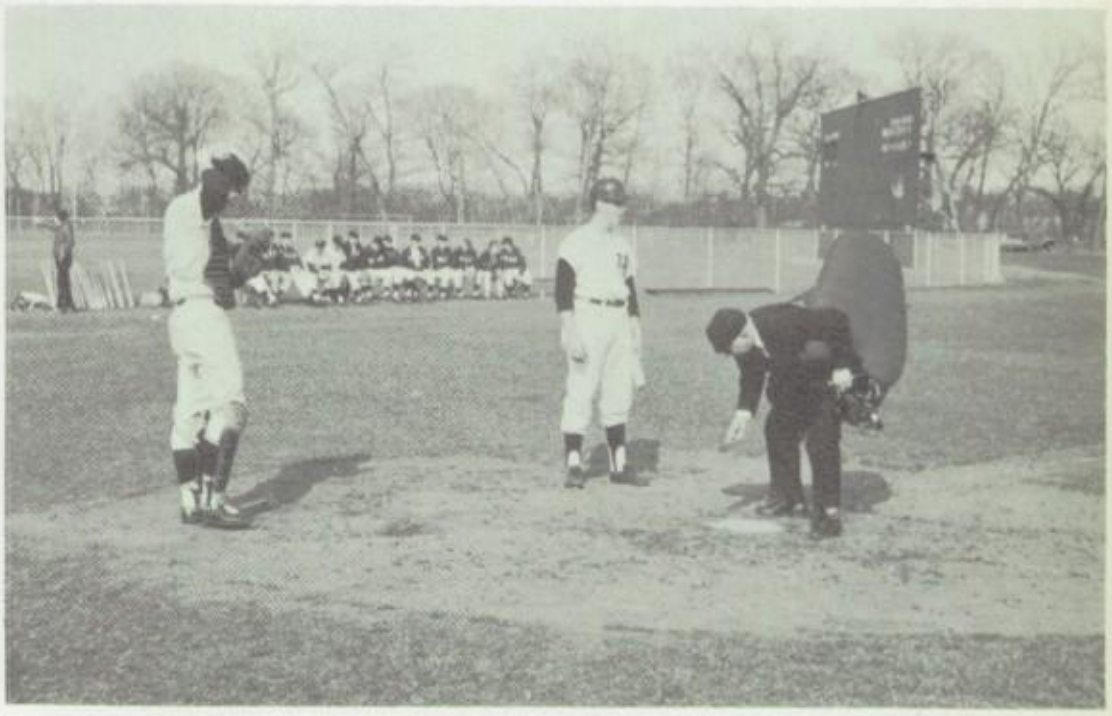
With the success of the Kent game, the Hopkins baseball squad of 1967 seems to be reaching the level of its potential. With its relaxed attitude of fun coupled with serious baseball and Captain O'Leary, the season promises not only to be successful, but enjoyable.

"Sorry fellas, I gotta go play now."

"Congratulations"

This is Hank swinging at a high pitch.

Down the home stretch.



"Spit on it again and I'll throw you out."

September 1966: June was still a long way off. Senior staff members had still to suffer the unforgettable worries of college applications. Pantagraph paste-up — what's that? October, November, and December all passed by with only utterances from the Pantagraph room, those being, "Fawcett, get to work — we need those candids."

We remodeled the Pantagraph room and although we didn't get much work done we did get a couch and two chairs. Part of the bargain was that we had to accept Larry Shanbrom's comments day in, day out, rain or shine — but he did do all the work and to this day his name will be long remembered.

Henry Mahakian's fantastic Machinations eked from his fluid pen onto paper. His caricatures begin the long arduous task of trying to put together a yearbook with a class like ours as the chief subjects.

January finally saw the fall sports writeups and candids being turned in. Editor-in-chief Peter Maresca could only thank the supernatural's for getting them in at all. Dave Newton saw to it that the financial end of his yearbook was to be unforgetable. With the largest business staff ever, he managed to get more money per square inch than history has ever before witnessed, due mainly to his charm, golden Camero, and three-piece suit.

Assistant Editor Mark Lewis always wanted a paste-up, but his partner Pete Halsey was never available for comment. Maresca felt that Halsey was forever clinging to some other cause. Lewis had paste-ups anyway, and Halsey was soon forgotten as the rest of the staff went to work.

When political elections fell from the national scene and Mike Scully lost the nomination for the governor of California, the staff welcomed him back with comments on his dancing bear interpretation of his job. Finally he was relegated to the position of chief spokesman in charge of arising libel lawsuits.

Spring time proved to be more hazardous to our health than Mr. Bakke's pipe tobacco, oozing under the door from across the hall. Our naturally laconic spirits drifted away and in April we had to set out a search party for sports editor Jim Plunkett who had drifted away altogether. He returned to the fold and polished up the fall athletic section.

Finally June came around, Halsey, Lewis, Maersca, Plunkett, Newton, and Mahakian, stayed in school, if only to work on the Pantagraph, just to insure a graduation distribution. So now with the end of the year at hand Pantagraph 67 sports racing stripes, dual intentions, and a staff of exausted spirits. It was fun to set up, fun to paste-up, and hectic attempting to get everything set by tentative, and in most cases posponed deadlines. Yet in the finale it should be seen that Pantagraph 67 will prove its own merits.

The word is passed; paste-up tonight: Bill Heinrichs and Andy Harvard will conduct their bi-monthly neo-Druid rites on the dark side of Baldwin Hall from seventh period until the wee hours of the morning. The galleys are brought in with a special blessing in four-letter words from the printer to speed them on.

Ritual is strictly adhered to as the timehonored ceremony gets under way. Bill works for an hour and a half on the front page; Andy walks in and with a few disparaging remarks he rearranges the whole thing. A new record is set: seven different rules from Springboard to Journalism are broken on one page! Jim Stowe falls asleep in Mr. Harrison's room trying to fit the swimming article in upside down. Mr. Harrison will complain of glue on his desk tomorrow.

The copy readers are busy; Dan Wasserman reads galley three six times and announces that he has finished them all; grabs a chair and runs to the stairs to ambush Geoff Robinson who will come late. Mark Lewis is sitting in a corner gnawing a chicken bone and writing inane headlines. Later he will play a raga on the eighteen-key typewriter.

Jack Healy walks in with a portfolio of ads from a tobacconist, four bars, eighteen package stores, and a Hindu mystic who reads palms. There will be no advertising in this issue. As it grows late, it becomes obvious that the typist, Dick Schade, will not make a guest appearance tonight. Arnie Merriam, however, does arrive; he has done his page at home and is missing the fun. He mutters some imprecations and gives Andy the Greek Horns as he retreats.

Noises in the hall: It is late enough, and Geoff is here. Dan chases him into the room, where he sees the work left to him; he will be in shock for the rest of the evening. Dan starts reciting mysteries known only to himself and drops things out of the windows. Bill stands on the table and sings. Andy starts to cry and contemplates suicide.

11:07; the buzzer sounds for the third time in five minutes. Stowe rolls over and wakes up: He invokes furies long dead and calls down a plague on the house as he lumbers down the stairs. Someone is trying to perform a tracheotomy on Bill with dull scissors.

The dust gradually settles as they leave one by one. Once again, the gods have been appeased and the school is saved.

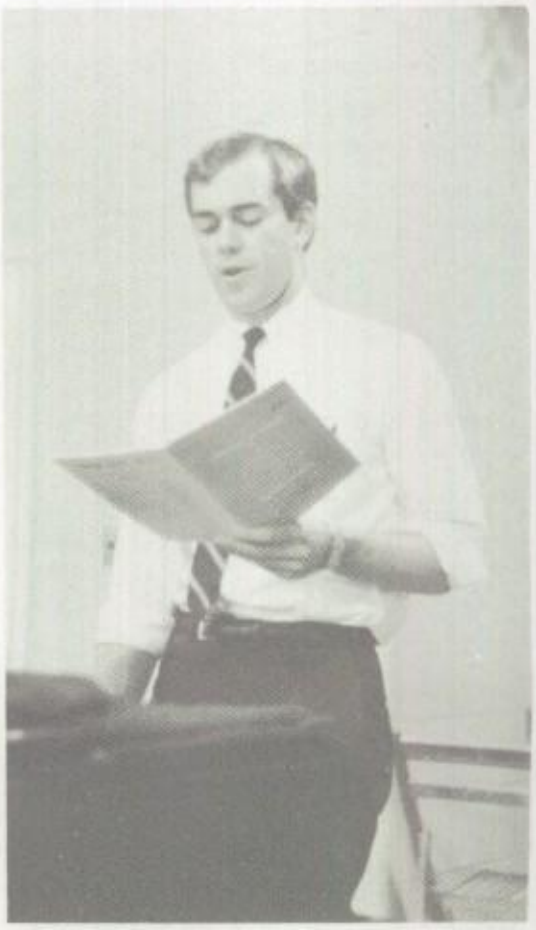
The 1966-1967 Senior Glee Club proved again its unbelievable ability to learn a great amount of diverse music in a proportionately limited amount of rehearsal time. Despite the inevitable cries of inhumane treatment, Mr. Richmann managed to translate the Club's proverbial "great potential" into noteworthy proficiency.

Naturally, the most inspired and memorable performances of the season were at the "away" concerts with the Oxford, Westover, and Miss Hall's schools. The third annual pre-Christmas Oxford concert presented the pluribus unum performances of the '66-'67 Glee Club staple: Jubilate Deo, Turtle Dove, Mohacs Field, and the appropriate See that Babe. The Club's versatility was demonstrated at the hectic Oxford rehearsal-dinner-concert-dance where the musical offering featured the final chorus of Bach's Cantata no. 21 and was climaxed by the distinctive dancing sounds of the URGE. Even more exciting for many were the subsequent late winter trips to Westover and Miss Hall's. The Glee Club's appearance at Westover brought the girls out of hibernation to hear the first performance of the "Kyrie" from the mixed chorus Jazz Mass by their Glee Club Director, Mrs. Sharron Adrian.



Incorporating the URGE's electric organ, the Club gave an impressive and unique rendition of sections of Langlais' Missa in Simplicitate at this Miss Hall's encounter.

Preparation for the Spring Choral Festival commanded most of the Club's post-Spring Vacation time. Being in the "modern section" this year, the group learned Vaughan Williams' In Windsor Forest and the Sinfonia Sacra of Daniel Pinkham. Learning how it should not be done, the Club enjoyed and profited from a shambolic rehearsal with Dr. Paranov and the Mary A. Burnham and Day Prospect Hill Schools at Hopkins on April 9.

Rounding out the schedule of girls school functions, the Club joined Day Prospect for the two traditional concerts: the 13th Annual Christmas Service of Lessons and Carols at Trinity Church and the always enjoyable Spring Jamboree at Hopkins.

It should be mentioned that the Glee Club's New Haven area activities, though perhaps not embodying the spirit of adventure and conquest associated with travel, are by far the best attended of the year's concerts and are also rewarding from other standpoints. Appearances at the New Haven Real Estate Board's Christmas Party, St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Cheshire, the Day Prospect concerts, and the Commencement offering present the Club's considerable musical talents to the wider audience the organization deserves. For certainly Mr. Richmann and the Club members themselves merit much credit. There is no activity at Hopkins that crams in more total preparation time than the Glee Club, nor one that is called upon more often to demonstrate its results. Although every selection in every concert has not been and can not possibly be a great success, the fact that the members themselves have grown in their knowledge of music and that fun has been had in the process represents a significantly profitable and memorable year.

The Drama Club of Hopkins and Day Prospect Hill combined for the third consecutive year to present Shakespeare's Twelfth Night on February 17th and 18th, 1967 on the Hopkins stage.

Shakespeare was not initially a popular choice. His plays were called unreadable, his roles unactable, and his language, with varying connotations unspeakable, his view of life outmoded, his very name contaminated with association with the classroom. For the genuine expression of current feelings and ideas the play had to be modern and by turns tragic, ironic, pathetic, and funny.

The outcome suprised everyone, including the Director and Producer whose optimism had faded under attack. Slight compression of the text added life and movement, but retained Shakespeare's variety and sensitivity. Moving onto the stage itself, Mr. Hayden, Mr. Wells, and their whiz kids evolved a set which at once recognized all the Shakespearean locales, provided different levels, and made for entrances from practically everywhere, including a trap door in the roof. But, most suprisingly of all, the actors not only withdrew most of their objections to Shakespeare's lines after some preliminary sparring, but found a depth, variety, and complexity of character that presented an unexpected challenge. On both nights, they met these challenges admirably.

To play a Shakespearean character requires an extension of sensibility, a careful study of personality, an attempt to control the elusive paradoxes of human nature. In Atkin's Malvolio conceit, helplessness, stupidity, intelligence, absurdity suddenly became compatible; Hoffman's Sir Andrew was ridiculous but intensely likeable; Glenn's Toby sensibly debauched. The Day Prospect girls served us admirably with fine performances — Ruth Wilson's Maria shrewd, carefree, lusty; Ann Blum's Olivia wisely spoken, rashly but charmingly motivated; Valerie Brown's Viola sensible, contemptuous, loving, scheming. The impossibilities of Shakespearean men and women at least seemed to come within reach.

The crew, as always in a Hopkins production, performed quietly and with total efficiency, George Keating and Mark Lewis, as Technical Director and Stage Manager, (added to the pleasantness and reliablity of President Dan Wasserman's Committee) allowed nothing to worry them or to escape their attention. Bill Kirschner was once more invaluable as prop manager. Rick Lee made a quiet and almost (as far as I could see) error-free debut. Some thirty others from other schools, both actors and crew labored for two and one half months with imagination and diligence to make the performance as flawless as possible. Thus the Director and Producer, the cooperation of all concerned, their patience in difficulty and their coolness and perhaps the most satisfying production ever done at Hopkins.

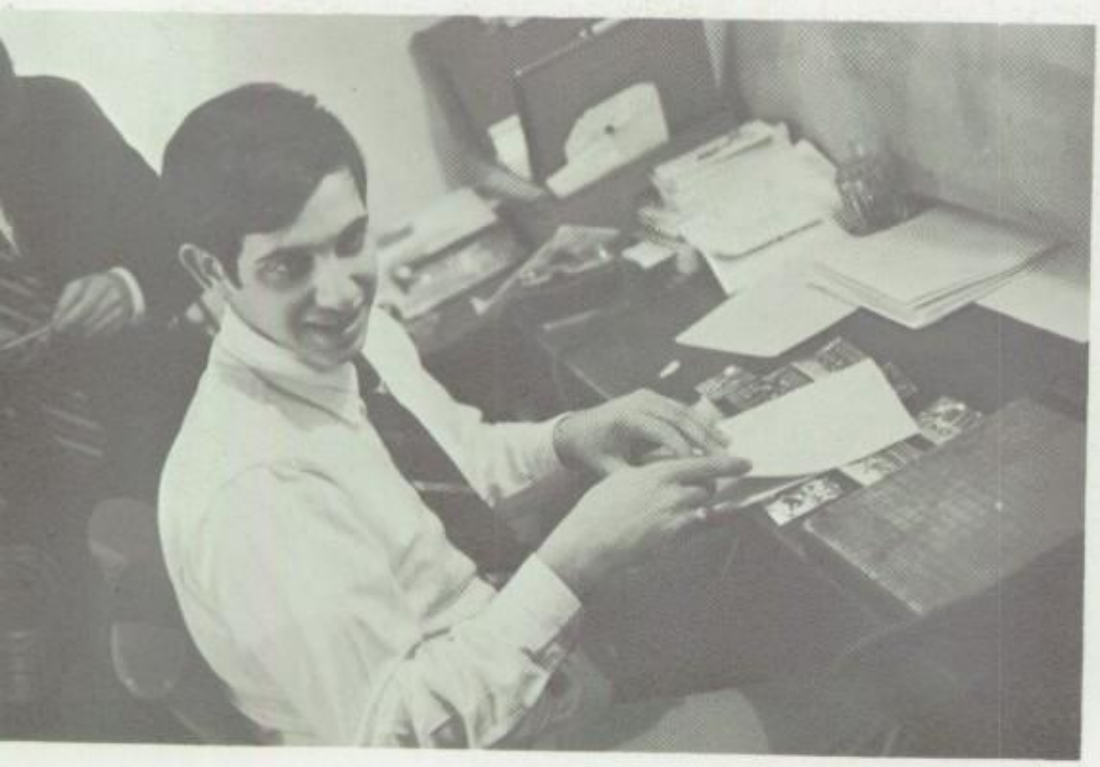
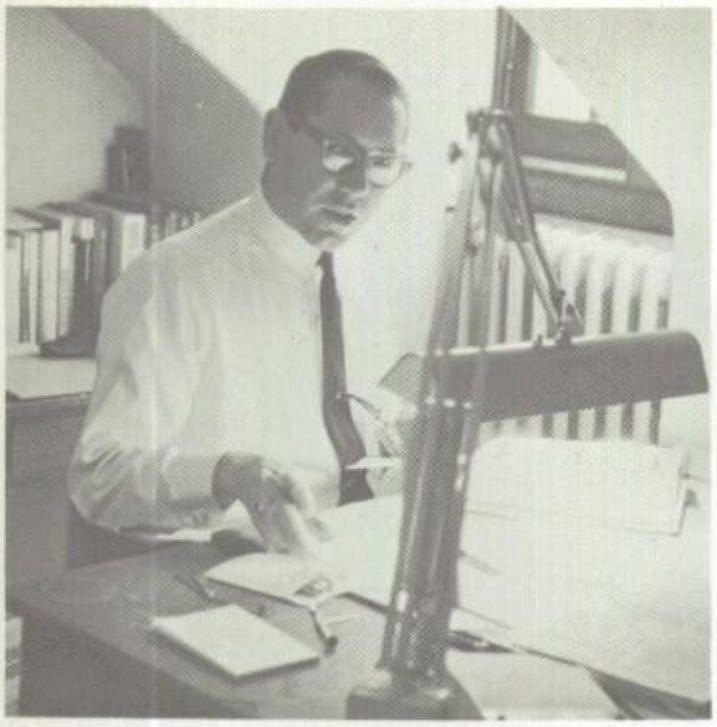
Man's best friend.

Last seen carrying an olive attache case . . .



"Why not, Pete?"

"And Wasserman was telling me . . ."

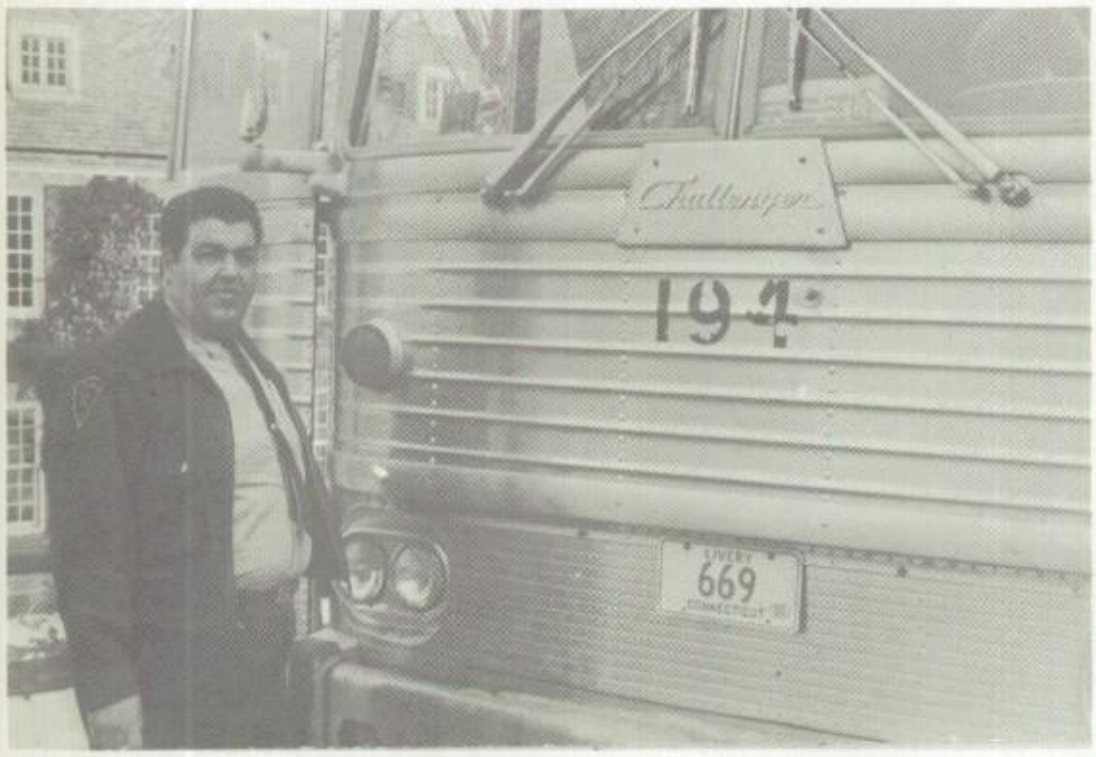


"Sorry fellas, no icecubes."

"Do you think we should put it on the shelves?"

"Come on you swine!"

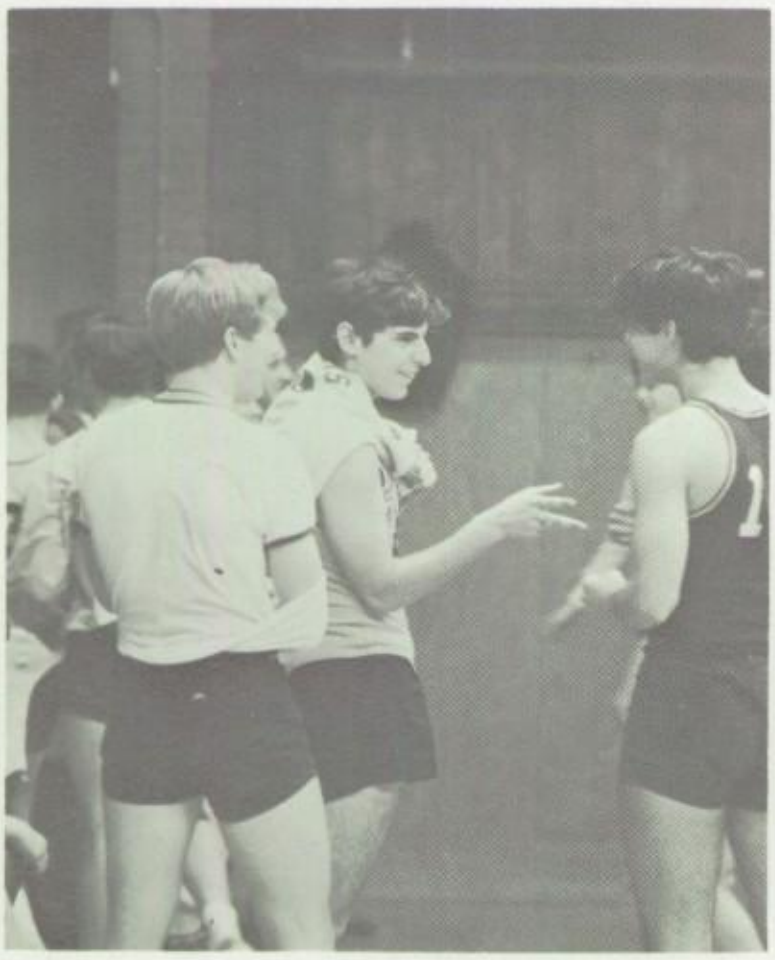
"Only one . . ."



The one, the only, Nick Sterling.

"Oooshh"

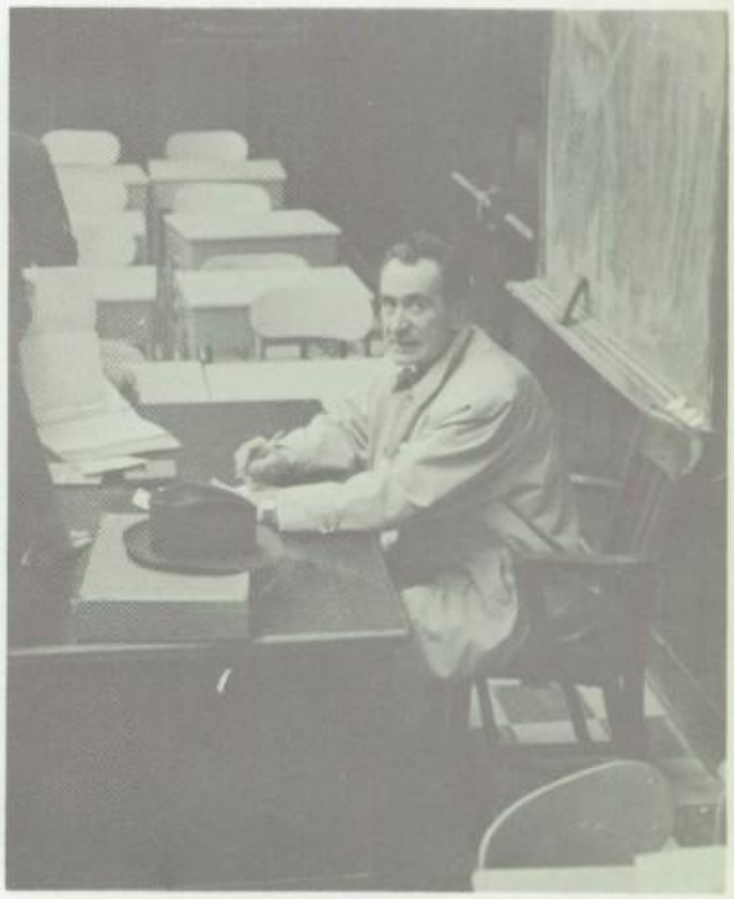
"Gee coach, let me in."



"But I got out of it."

Scully and Bakke in '84

"And we can take a ride in my truck."



"No more jokes this year, Maresca."
